Day-by-day itinerary

1

Day 1: Into the White Wilderness – Kalo Dungar & Sunset at the White Rann

Upon your arrival at Bhuj Airport or Railway Station, meet our representative and begin your memorable journey towards the magnificent White Rann of Kutch. The drive takes you through the distinctive landscapes of Kutch, where vast open plains, traditional villages and the striking beauty of the desert gradually unfold.

En route, visit Kalo Dungar (Black Hill), the highest point in Kutch, offering spectacular panoramic views of the Great Rann. From its elevated viewpoint, admire the seemingly endless expanse of the white salt desert stretching towards the horizon. The hill is also known for its Dattatreya Temple and the fascinating tradition of feeding jackals, adding a touch of local heritage to the experience.

Continue towards Dhordo, the gateway to the White Rann, and check in to your resort or tent accommodation. After some time to relax, proceed to the White Rann Sunset View Point, where nature presents one of its most enchanting spectacles. Witness the vast salt desert transform under the changing hues of the evening sky, as golden sunlight gradually gives way to shades of orange, pink and purple. The surreal landscape creates an unforgettable setting for photography and cherished travel memories.

Return to your accommodation for dinner. Later, immerse yourself in the vibrant cultural spirit of Kutch with traditional folk music, colourful Garba performances and local cultural presentations (subject to the property's programme schedule). Experience the warmth of Kutchi hospitality before retiring for the night.

Overnight Stay: White Rann / Dhordo.

Day 2: The Road to Eternity – From White Sands to the Ancient Civilisation of Dholavira

Wake up to the peaceful atmosphere of the desert and enjoy breakfast at the resort. Bid farewell to the beautiful White Rann and embark on a scenic journey towards Dholavira via the spectacular Road to Heaven.

The Road to Heaven is one of Kutch's most remarkable driving experiences, a scenic stretch connecting the mainland with Khadir Bet island. Surrounded by the vast seasonal wetlands of the Great Rann, this straight road creates an extraordinary illusion of floating through an endless white landscape. During certain seasons, the surrounding salt flats and shallow waters offer breathtaking reflections, making this route a paradise for photography enthusiasts.

Upon reaching Dholavira, step back nearly 4,500 years in time as you explore the archaeological remains of the ancient Dholavira, one of the most significant urban settlements of the Harappan Civilisation and a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Visit the Dholavira Archaeological Site, where the extraordinary town planning, sophisticated water conservation systems and remarkable architectural remains reveal the ingenuity of an advanced ancient civilisation. Explore the impressive fortified city, divided into distinct sections, including the Citadel, Middle Town and Lower Town. Discover the remnants of reservoirs, drainage systems, ceremonial structures and the famous ancient signboard, offering fascinating insights into the lifestyle, engineering skills and urban development of the Harappan people.

Continue your exploration at the Dholavira Museum, where archaeological discoveries, artefacts and interpretative displays help bring the history of this ancient settlement to life. Gain a deeper understanding of the Harappan way of life, their craftsmanship, trade networks and remarkable technological achievements.

Later, visit the Dholavira Fossil Park, an interesting natural attraction showcasing ancient fossilised remains that offer glimpses into the geological history of the region. The fossil-rich landscape provides an opportunity to appreciate the prehistoric natural heritage of Kutch and its fascinating transformation over millions of years.

After completing the day's exploration, return to your accommodation in Dholavira and unwind amidst the peaceful surroundings of Khadir Bet.

Overnight Stay: Dholavira.

Day 3: Farewell to Kutch – Journey Back to Home

After breakfast, check out from the hotel and begin your return journey towards Bhuj. Enjoy the changing landscapes of Kutch along the way, carrying with you memories of the mesmerising White Rann, the spectacular Road to Heaven and the fascinating heritage of the ancient Harappan civilisation.
